OBJECTIVE

To promote a strong culture of scientific excellence, innovation, and research within the institution. The committee is dedicated to encouraging academic inquiry, organizing seminars, workshops, and conferences, and supporting research activities among students and faculty. It ensures the quality and integrity of scientific work while fostering collaboration, critical thinking, and continuous learning. The committee also aims to keep the academic community updated with the latest advancements and best practices in the field.

Students and faculty can connect with the committee for research guidance and scientific activities via e-mail at research@mipstripura.in
